We are going to talk about people.

And what happens when they come together.

We slam ideas and feelings back, forth, and against each other.

We are leaders and workers

. . . makers in activities.

We study and discuss and our understanding grows.

We are the meeting.

*Start our story in an English
classroom, where a start with words turns out a concern with mankind.*

PLACE
Let's thank . . .

If "to part is to die a little," then surely to meet is to live a little. Although each of us possesses the incomplete gift of individuality, we are inevitably touched by the subtlety of our relationships with others. We grow both as we give to and receive from those with whom we have contact.

To a degree unmatched at this stage of our lives school provides the meeting ground which nurtures this growth. Hopefully we leave it mutually enriched by these associations.

In memory of

HUGH ROBERT SIMPSON
Aug. 30, 1949—Aug. 8, 1964

"You, neighbor God, if sometimes in the night
I rouse you with loud knocking, I do so only because I seldom hear you breathe;
I know you are alone.
And should you need a drink, no one is there to reach it to you, groping in the dark.
Always I hearken. Give but a small sign,
I am quite near.

"Between us there is but a narrow wall, and by sheer chance; for it would take merely a call from your lips or from mine to break it down,
and that all noiselessly . . .

"You, neighbor God . . ."

This important organization serves both as an advisory board and as a service organization. As an advisory board, it brings student views to the attention of the administration and recommends changes and improvements in the running of the school.

As a service organization it does a great deal inside and outside of the school. This year, Council members ran a paperback bookstore that featured classics and popular titles. They also conducted opening exercises and read the morning notices.

Led by President Bill Ayers and Advisor Mr. Carlin, Council members undertook two worthwhile projects outside of the school. One was a clean-up project in connection with S.N.A.P. (South End Neighborhood Action Program). Members volunteered to go into Boston to help clean up playgrounds and streets. The other project was raising money to build a school in South America for the Peace Corps. The Council raised the needed funds by sponsoring a dance and a sports night with the WMEX disc jockeys.

Senior Class Officers

Meeting with their advisor, Mr. Leone, the senior class officers planned many of the year's important social events. They selected the members of the Spirit Committee, Dance Committee, Class Day Committee and Prom Committee. The officers decided that the prom and Class Day should be held in different weeks, so that the seniors could spread the memorable activities over a longer period of time.

Under the officers' leadership, the class of 1968 raised more money than any other class in North's history. The money was raised by holding dances and by collecting dues. Some went to help finance North's domestic exchange with St. Louis Park, Minnesota, and to pay for the prom and the class gift. The rest of the money was put aside to finance future class reunions.

Senior Class Vice-President, Gigi Wallace.

Senior Class Secretary, Marilyn Anderson.

Junior Class Officers: Secretary, Pat Donohoe; President, Jay Connerty; Advisor, Miss McCoy; Vice-President, Jane Leavens; Treasurer, Margie Hoffman.

Junior Class Officers

Junior class officers, with the help of their advisor, Miss McCoy, organized committees to help with the details of their fall and winter dances and their prom. The two dances and the sale of Thanksgiving Game buttons raised money needed for the prom and for next year's activities.

Miss McCoy and the officers began the class activities with the delivery of class rings in October. Then in preparation for the football games, the new "Go-North- Go" buttons were ordered and sold by the officers and advisor.

The annual junior class Halloween Dance with music by Rasputin and the Mad Monks was presented on October 28 and proved successful with over four hundred students attending.

As the football season approached the last three games, "Beat Quincy" buttons were sold for the two basketball games between the same schools.

The winter dance, featuring The Chalk Garden from The Surf, was held on January 12 with success due to the leadership of the class officers, the hard working committee, and the support of the student body.

The Junior Prom, held on April 26, developed the theme of Scarborough Fair. The girls in their gowns with their escorts made a very beautiful picture against the multi-colored paintings, streamers, balloons, and carousel located in the center of the gymnasium. Music for dancing was played by the excellent Eric Ross orchestra. Refreshments were served in the adjoining room during the evening, and the Grand March ended with the distribution of favors by the officers.

Senior Class Treasurer, Sue Bloom.

National Honor Society

National Honor Society stimulates and rewards scholarship, leadership, service, and character. Outstanding juniors and seniors are chosen each year by the faculty to be honored at the May induction ceremony. The National Honor Society has sponsored a "Flower Dance" and other projects to raise money for a worthwhile cause.

North Star Staff in their office.

Since little enthusiasm and a large debt were left over from last year, there seemed little hope of having a regular school newspaper this year. But interested students and teachers decided that North should have a newspaper. "Faculty Follies," the very successful teacher talent show, provided more than enough money to pay last year's debt. The three advisors, Miss Locke, Miss Noonan, and Mr. Pierce, chose a staff by judging essays the candidates submitted. Working under a minimum of advisor supervision and censorship, the staff has put out a meaningful publication. The "North Star" portrayed life at North through criticisms, opinions, and facts without pap or cliches. Perhaps its greatest contribution to North was its arousing faculty and students from their usual apathy. The controversy stirred up by the first issue proved that people at North are interested in worthwhile activities connected with their school.

The Language Honor Societies single out and reward students who achieve an average of B+ or better. In April a candlelight induction ceremony features international speakers and good food. This fall, the Honor Societies from Quincy and North held a reception for the Mexican exchange students studying at Quincy High School. This allowed time for relaxed conversation between North students and guests while all enjoyed punch and cookies. Language Honor societies also have assisted the Foster Parent Club with several penny collections.

Science Club

The goal of the Science Club is to stimulate and encourage interest in science among students of all grades and abilities. Wednesday meetings featured special speakers. Anthropologist Mr. Daniel McCall, for example, defined social and physical anthropology as applied to his specific field studies in Africa. These meetings also gave students and teachers an opportunity to exchange ideas and opinions in a non-classroom atmosphere.

The Science Club worked with the Promoters of Science and Mathematics to sponsor the Science Fair, where students presented the results of their individual research to the public and to their judges. Members of the community presented trophies and cash prizes to the winners. Several winners went on to regional and state competitions. William Ayers presented an outstanding project on air pollution.

Other activities coordinated this year by the club included the International Science Fortnight, the Florida Science Study Program, the U. of Mass. "Science in Action" program, the M.I.T. science lectures, and the annual cook-out at Miss Schield's Scituate home.

Warren Stone watches crystals form.

Steve Larson discusses project with judge at annual Science Fair.

Key Club has just one goal: to help people. For example, every Friday afternoon two members drive to the deactivated base in Squantum to work with retarded children. They play with the children, teaching motor and social skills, and providing much needed friendship. Also, Key Club members help the Student Council by selling programs at football games. All boys in grades ten through twelve are eligible to join.

Because of the increasing importance of the ocean as a source of food, fresh water, and mineral resources, the Marine Science Club teaches students the basics of marine chemistry, biology and physics. Members have conducted experiments in salt marshes and presented their results to the club. Others have built marine aquariums equipped with salt water plants and animals that they collected themselves. Meetings have also featured outside speakers from fisheries and nearby colleges.

Art Guild

Art Guild members take advantage of the cultural opportunities in the Boston area and foster appreciation of the arts. The Guild presented the "Happening" Dance, which featured such psychedelic effects as fake fog, two bands, blown fuses, and Mr. Charron in a foot-wide tie. Exhibits have acquainted the community with pop-art sculpture, glaze paintings, collages, and ink drawings. The response to these showings was enthusiastic, and many students were able to sell their work. Members have also attended films such as "Gone With the Wind", "Horse's Mouth", and "The Knack". They presented several fine arts films themselves in the spring.

Marilyn Gore, Michael Levine, and Marilyn Granville rehearse for their parts in the Drama Workshop Christmas production.

Drama Workshop

This Christmas the Drama Workshop produced a glittering, hilarious version of "Sleeping Beauty" full of brocades, laces, jokes, and mimes for the children at the Pollard School. Working with theater professionals, members have learned set-building, costuming, and make-up. The Workshop has also attended a professional production of Oedipus Rex at the Globe Theater in Harvard Square. The Workshop produced a full-length drama in the spring.

Participating in North's band increases the student's knowledge of the musical art form, disciplines him to the necessity of cooperation, and teaches him to express himself through rhythm, motion and vibrance. The band performed at football games, concerts and school assemblies. Band members also participated in exchange concerts with Nashua High School of Nashua, New Hampshire. This exchange program gave members an opportunity to perform together and become acquainted with other students and conductors.

Every Thursday at 7:00 A.M. the Stage Band rehearsed for their many performances this year. As well as appearing in the Manet Show and at school assemblies, the Stage Band was invited by Central Junior High School to give a guest performance at the annual Pops Concert. Because the group is small and includes strings, it can produce the "cool" sound, not so well produced by a large brass band.

Orchestra

Conducted by Mr. Pinkofsky, the orchestra has performed at the Q.T.A. Tea and the Spring Concert. Furthermore, four Symphony players who went to the Southeast District Competition were accepted to compete at the Southeast District Music Festival held at Falmouth, Massachusetts. Two of these four, Paul Sullivan and Eileen McBournie, were nominated for the All-State Music Festival.

Concert Choir rehearses for the Fauré Requiem in room 402.

Concert Choir

Overcoming many vocal problems encountered by students, the Concert Choir strove to develop choral disciplines that make possible the performance of masterpiece works. The Concert Choir presented the Fauré Requiem as a memorial service for the three graduates of North—Richard Vasconcellos, Brian Ahearn, and James Stark—who were killed in Viet Nam. They have also performed at the Q.T.A. Tea, the Spring Concert, and the Christmas program. After work-outs with classical music from the Renaissance period to the present, the choir relaxed with lighter music at the Pops Concert.

Meeting three times a week under the direction of Mr. Carbonneau, Mixed Glee Club teaches the fundamentals of choral discipline to large numbers of students. At the Christmas program, this group joined the Concert Choir members and presented the "Hallelujah Chorus" from Handel's "Messiah", and also traditional Christmas carols from France, Spain and Germany.

Teachers' Career Club

Teachers' Career Club helps students investigate teaching possibilities. Guest speakers, from both the supervising and the classroom levels, answered questions in informal sessions, while a panel from Lesley College discussed what it is like to be a student-teacher. Club members have observed teaching methods at Montclair Elementary School and tutored civics students in connection with Mr. Miceli's curriculum experiment. Working in a Roxbury tutoring project, President Marcia Pendleton has taught reading and arithmetic to elementary school children.

Nurses' Career Club

The Nurses' Career Club encourages interest in X-ray technology and physical therapy as well as in nursing by making varied, detailed information available to interested students. For example, the Club took a field trip to the Quincy and Peter Bent Brigham Hospitals to see nursing in practice. Special speakers have discussed aspects of the medical profession and answered students' specific questions. At Christmas the Nurses' Career Club provided food and gifts for a needy family in Quincy.

Rifle Club

Monday evenings in the basement of Atlantic Junior High School, the Rifle Club learned the basic skills of gun safety and marksmanship. Advanced students, many with awards in marksmanship, instructed new members in the different firing positions, loading, and aiming. The advisor, Mr. Burgess, graded the target of each member, counting bull's-eyes and suggesting new techniques.

Weekly meetings of the Bowling Club provided fun and competition. Girls met Monday afternoons at the Norfolk Downs Alley and boys met Thursdays at the Wollaston Bowladrome. Each group was divided into teams that competed for trophies. These trophies were awarded to teams and individuals for high scores and high averages.

Girls' Sports

Girls' Sports included volleyball, basketball, and tennis this year. Meeting after school under the direction of Miss O'Conner, the girls divided into teams that participated in intramurals, and then played round-robin tournaments. The winners from these tournaments competed for the school championship. But most important, the girls had lots of fun, while improving their game skills and keeping physically fit.

World Affairs Club

Working in connection with the Foreign Policy Association, the World Affairs Club helps students to understand foreign affairs. Last fall members discussed the Arab-Israeli crisis and the Viet Nam cease fire at the model United Nations Council held at Harvard University. Students studied the official statements of their adopted countries beforehand and defended these positions in formal debate. Miss Stowe told about her teaching experiences in tension-ridden Nigeria, and Miss Locke described her year in Germany with slide illustrations. Outside speakers lectured on the Middle East, Asia, and Europe. Everyone was welcome to attend these discussions.

At 8:00 A.M. students line up for library passes.

Library Staff

Running the library is a big job and a necessary one. Magazines must be put away, passes sent to study halls, broken bindings taped, catalog cards typed, overnight books checked in and out, and teachers' book orders filled. But the Library Staff's successful handling of the 2:30 line-up of angry social studies students is the true proof of the skill and endurance of the members of the Library Staff.

Directed by Miss Persis Johnson, the junior and senior groups have discussed classic and modern works of political and economic theory as well as traditional plays and novels.

Last Christmas books, pens, shaving kits, and playing cards were collected, packaged, and shipped by the Red Cross Council to the Americans serving in Viet Nam. The school received letters of warm thanks from both the International Red Cross and the soldiers. North's Red Cross also provided small gifts and Christmas decorations for many nursing home patients in Quincy and again received hearty thanks.

Receptionists

Receptionists and Guidance Receptionists gave up their study periods to help counselors and office workers with many routine tasks. By answering telephones, giving information to people new to the building, looking up records and running errands, the girls gained on-the-job experience and freed the counselors and office workers for more specialized work.

This fall the Foster Parent Club was organized by Mrs. Medaglia to make dresses, coats, yarn octopuses and Raggedy Anne dolls which were displayed outside the office before being sent to Hong Kong. Because many students responded so creatively and generously, the Club was able to help the little girl and her entire family.

Tri-Hi-Y has helped many people this year. Working with the Salvation Army and the Morgan Memorial, the girls gave food and Christmas presents to needy families. They sang Christmas carols at nursing homes, at Long Island Hospital, and put on a variety show at St. Colleta's School. Also, the girls gave a Christmas party for the retarded children at the Furnace Brook School. These students deserve much credit for their service to the community.

Though all senior girls are members of the Girls' Club, an executive board of twenty members planned and presented such major activities as the Mr. Touchdown Dance and the Girls' Club Semi-formal, "Fascination". Members also gave a party for the physically handicapped children at the Pollard School and produced the Manet Show to help finance the yearbook. The Girls' Club awarded a scholarship to a senior girl for service to the school. All work was done by the girls themselves, giving them an excellent opportunity to develop leadership and organization skills.

Dance Committees

The Dance Committees, headed by the Senior Class Officers and advised by Mr. Leone, have put on two dances: the Fall Dance and the Psychedelic Dance, held in March. The committee members handled all the details of presenting these dances. They hired bands, advertised with posters and loudspeaker announcements, printed and sold tickets, hired policemen, and decorated the gym. Both dances were very successful.

The class officers choose the twenty members of the Prom Committee for their enthusiasm and hard work on other committees. With the leadership of Chairmen Ed Vena and Pat Giallongo, and the advice of Mr. Leone, this year's committee members chose the theme and the favors and made dinner arrangements. Because of the committee's efforts the prom, held May 24th at the Sheraton Boston, was a truly memorable occasion.

Class Day is when every senior comes to school in raggedy, colored clothes, and the underclassmen gaze wistfully out their classroom windows. Class Day is when you have to sit on your guitar in the crowded bus and when you get to Lake Pearl, get lost in the woods. You eat too much and you giggle too much, but it all makes, of course, excellent material for memories.

When you work on a yearbook, that yearbook follows you everywhere. You find yourself spending Saturday evenings over a Pepsi bottle, pencil stub, and layout sheet-covered work table. Or you dream that you're a candid and wake up with the horrible feeling that you're improperly cropped. All your after school conversations concern the value of captioning or the effects of colored endsheets. In February you will probably have detailed plans for stealing the Patron funds and flying to Brazil so as to avoid the seniors' happy congratulations when they see what a delightful yearbook you have designed for them. Many yearbook staffs who cannot speak Portuguese prefer the Virgin Islands.

Well, how should I know where George left the Student Council pictures, but if I find them, I'll bring them to Peggy's for the meeting and we'll get lynched if we don't have those thirty pages all laid out by Monday, which shouldn't be too hard if Howie would just not run around having those fascinating and unproductive conversations, and get some big cokes and potato chips and chocolate chip cookies and I don't care if you crop out the heads in that group picture but when will Barbara be ready with her enthralling write-up of the winter track team and I think these Sunsweets are a little dry.

Cheerleaders

Kathy Kennedy at the Thanksgiving Day Game.

Cyndi Ditullio gives a few pointers.

Cheerleading is more than an activity. This year's squad, under the direction of Miss McCoy and Head Carol Trefry, provided a valuable service to the school: leading the fans in showing support for North's football and basketball teams. The girls demonstrated that all students, not only the players, could add to North's spirit and sportsmanship.

The football team, coached by Mr. Leone, finished its season with 6 wins and 3 losses. This is a fine record, especially in the Greater Boston League, which is generally considered the best in the state.

The season began with 3 wins over Revere, Lynn English, and Malden. These games extended the winning streak of last year to 12 games. The Red Raiders lost the next game to a strong Medford team, after holding Medford to a tie until the final minute. A win over Chelsea and two more losses, to Everett and Boston Tech, followed. The next game, a 24-21 win over Somerville, will be remembered as one of the best games in North's history. North was behind 21-18 late in the fourth quarter, and rallied to score the winning touchdown with less than one minute remaining.

The final game was a 14-6 victory over traditional rival Quincy on a rainy, muddy Thanksgiving Day. North scored 2 touchdowns in the first half while holding Quincy scoreless. In the second half Quincy scored once and began another drive in the fourth quarter. But a strong North defense held to preserve the victory.

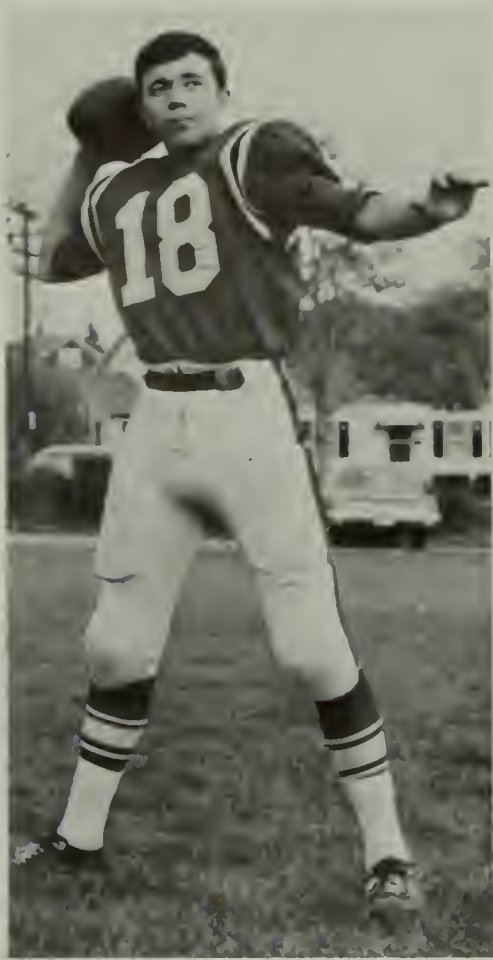

The outstanding players of the season were Halfback Dennis Kelly, and tri-captains, Tackle Ed Vena, Guard John Holmes, and End Bill Degan. All four boys were named to the All-League Team. Also, Ed Vena was chosen for the All-Scholastic Teams of both the Boston Globe and the Quincy Patriot Ledger, which means that Ed was one of the best players in eastern Massachusetts.

Coached by Mr. Golding, the gym team had an excellent season, finishing with a 5-1 record within the Suburban League and a 7-2 record overall. The team was led by captains John Damon, Joe Clancy, and Tom Carroll. Joe Clancy was the team's best gymnast on the parallel bars and in free exercise. Tom Carroll excelled on the still rings and long horse. Other outstanding team members were Ross Perry on the side horse and Bob Boyd on the high bar.

Gymnastics has never been a major sport at North, but it has been gaining popularity in recent years. The judging and scoring in gymnastics are very different from those in other sports. At a meet, four judges watch each boy's routine in each event. Each judge awards a maximum of ten points to each routine, depending upon the difficulty of moves attempted, the skill with which the moves are combined into a smoothly flowing performance, and the form and grace of execution. The highest and lowest of the four scores are eliminated, and the middle two scores are averaged to give the final score for each routine.

Soccer

Discouraged by many injuries and a lack of student support, the soccer team finished the season with a record of 3-6-1. Nevertheless, many games were exciting, and many players were outstanding. Probably the best game was played against undefeated Hingham. North came very close to upsetting them, but the wind blew in Hingham's kick for a goal near the end of the game. The score was tied at 3-3. Hingham finally won on a penalty kick in double overtime. Losing such a close game was a great blow to the team's morale.

Forward Rich Courtney and Center Forward Dick Nicholson, the team captains, were chosen by the coaches to receive "All League" awards. The Patriot Ledger "All Scholastic" award went to Fullback Paul Haight. Also among the best players on the team were Bob Mollica, Bruce Healey, Bill Mulvey, Roger Conboy, and John Murphy.

North's basketball team got off to a slow start this season. After the first 12 games, its record was 7-5. North had to win its final four games to qualify for the Eastern Mass. (Tech) Tournament. On February 2, North beat New Bedford, which had been undefeated previously. After that game the team gelled and gained a great deal of confidence. Three more wins followed against Quincy, Medford, and Everett, and only Malden remained.

Malden played a good game, but the Red Raiders never gave up, even when they fell behind 30-25 in the second quarter. North regained the lead with a basket by Mark Jellison and went on to win 88-70. Jim Ducey led the team in scoring 25 points. Bob Sleeth scored 21 points, his highest total during the season. Ron Bradley scored 16 points and Mark Jellison scored 11 points. Each of the nine Red Raiders who played scored at least two points. Each contributed to North's final and most important victory. Coach Nolan said: ". . . You have to give credit to all the kids who played. They were all tremendous."

Hockey

Although the hockey team's record was only 4-8-2, many games were closely contested ties and losses. Five more goals in the right games would have given North this year's Metropolitan League Championship. The second game against Quincy High was a good example of the team's hard work and exciting play. Ranking second in the League, Quincy managed to win only on two quick goals in the third period, after North had lead for the first two periods.

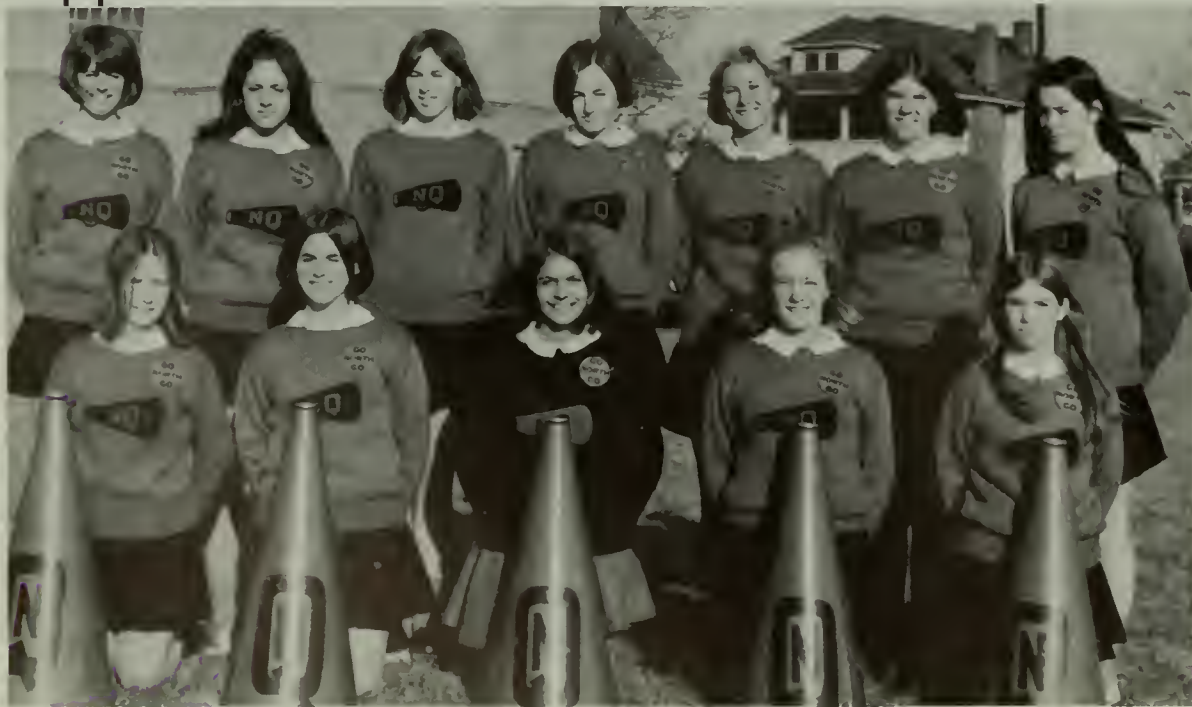

Center Wayne DeSchamp and Right Defence Tom Henderson, the team captains, were the outstanding players. Both were chosen as League All-Stars. Wayne DeSchamp also led the team with 14 goals and 10 assists.

Spring Track

Winter Track

Though cross country, winter track, and spring track have unfortunately attracted few fans, many boys have ignored this lack of support and faithfully plodded around the circle, practicing every afternoon. For three years of service on the teams, Charlie Devers, Steve Burke, Charlie Maguire, Dave Magee and George Regan received letters. Graham Murray and George Bray captained cross country for two years. Together they led North to a double victory over Quincy. Graham Murray established a personal record of 4:46 in the mile run, while George Bray set a personal record of 10:21 in the two mile event. Joe Massie ran on many winning relay teams. He holds the North record of 35.4 for the 300 yard event. Steve DiMattio was another outstanding relay runner. He also excelled in the dash, pole-vaulting, and hurdling events. Jack Shea was expert as a shot-putter and as a dash man. He ended his high school career by winning the Shot-Putter's Dash in the Metropolitan League. Although he began track only in his senior year, Ed Carr excelled in relays and the 1000-yard event.

Tennis

Last spring the tennis team practiced every afternoon at the Welcome Young Courts under the direction of Coach Forrester. Its record was a disappointing 3-8, but the season was successful in that the team defeated Quincy High twice. This year, with a strong nucleus of seven starters returning, the team expects to do well against such teams as Hingham, Weymouth, Brockton, Quincy, and B.C. High.

Golf

Last year the golf team, coached by Mr. Donahue, had an excellent season. Within its league, which includes six teams from Boston and Quincy, the team finished second with a record of 8-2. The efforts of Peter Fick, who won an award as the best player in the league, was a major reason for the team's success.

There are six starters on the golf team and two alternates. At a match, the six starters are divided into three pairs that play 9-12 holes with pairs from the opposing team. Each North player competes directly against one of the opposing players and earns one point if he wins more holes than his opponent does. At the end of the match each foursome compares all scores. The two North players earn one point if either one has the lowest score within the foursome for more than half of the holes played. The team getting the most of the nine possible points wins the match.

Last year's season, with only a few victories, was a disappointing one for North's baseball team. Since most of the starters were graduated last spring, only a few players returned this year. With Second Baseman Tom Carroll, Catcher Ed Vena, and First Baseman Jerry Connolly, with many promising J.V.'s coming up, and with a new coach, the team looked forward to a good season in '68.

Miss Locke.

North's faculty helped the North Star out of debt by putting on an Untalent Show, "Faculty Follies". Through a chaos of lost cowboy hats and teddy bears, through the shock of teachers in miniskirts, through much hooting, foot-pounding, and gum-snapping, shone the unique and undisguisable "hamminess" of North's faculty. The peacock almost dropped his proud tail, and Miss Locke's cancan was honed to imperfection. The audience laughed uncontrollably for two hours. And the North Star was able to pay its debts and to continue publication.

Chorus girls at Manet Show.

This Manet Show, sponsored by the Girls' Clubs to raise money for the Manet, is the closest thing to vaudeville at North. In preparation there are constant rehearsals and the work of costume and make-up experts. The show itself is an evening of chorus girls, comedy skits, dance teams and barber shop quartets.

More formal than an ordinary Saturday night dance and not quite as elaborate as the prom, the semi-formal is sponsored every year by the Girls' Club. It is unique in that girls invite boys. For this year's semi-formal, the Girls' Club Executive Board decorated the gym and chose the theme "Fascination".

Supervised by Mrs. Mahoney, the Fashion Show gave many girls an opportunity to model the school clothes, play clothes, and evening gowns they had made in home economics classes. Both simple "jiffy" patterns and more complex patterns, in varied weights and colors of cloth were modelled. Running commentary pointed out to the audience that the investment of just a little time, patience, and money could produce a varied and stylish wardrobe.

The music Exchange Concerts were designed to acquaint students and teachers with various types of musical education. North's Concert Choir and Band visited Nashua High School last spring. They drove up on Friday evening, rehearsed with the Nashua band and choir, attended a dance and an outing, and gave a concert with the Nashua groups Saturday evening. Later Nashua visited North. Directed by Mr. Norris, from Nashua's music department, and by Mr. Leone, the combined choirs and bands presented both classical and popular works such as "Camelot", "More", and "Unto Thee".

The Nashua Band rehearses.

One evening last spring North presented to the public an exhibition of student art work which helped many visitors understand new trends on the American art scene. For example, Miss Wilcon's ninth grade students displayed papier-maché puppets and pop-art posters. Mr. Charron's art majors contributed abstract wood sculpture, pop-art sculpture made from coke cans, and colorful designs woven from wool yarn.

Anthropology was offered this year as a major subject. Working on a rotation plan, two groups of seniors studied in turn cultural anthropology with Mr. La-Couture and physical anthropology with Miss Bollen. Cultural anthropology dealt with social and cultural practices of pre-literate peoples, the development of civilization, and the universal significance of myth-making and religion. Physical anthropology covered such topics as Primate Evolution, Genetics, and Similarities and Differences in Human Types.

Before you accept that first job . . .

Look over your employer
as carefully as he does you

What's the Company like anyway? Would I be proud to work there? Reputation for square dealing with employees? Pleasant surroundings?

Will I be working with others my own age? Are they friendly? Do they socialize after hours?

Will the boss be reasonable? Appreciate good, hard work, but won't explode if I make a mistake?

Will I make a decent week's pay? Have a chance for raises, advancement, more responsibility? How about fringe benefits?

Is the work challenging? I had what it takes to get through high school. Will they give me a chance to use my brains?

Note: Many young men and women in this area can answer "Yes" to these questions. They work for New England Telephone.

Why not talk with our employment interviewer soon . . . before you graduate? Ask your Guidance Counselor to tell you when and where to apply.

Working on a yearbook is working in a community: thinking, discussing, scribbling, joking, compromising, and helping each other. And the final result of this community effort is a record of the planned and unplanned MEETINGS of ideas, feelings, actions, and reactions that are YOU—North Quincy High School in 1968. We the editors are grateful to all the members of our community—to patrons, sponsors, and staff workers, to our photographer, Mr. James Bleiler, and to our publisher's representative, Mr. Roswell Farnham. We are also grateful to Mr. Robert Charron for his guidance in art. But especially we want to thank our faculty advisor, Mrs. Mary Young, for her sincerity and hard work in helping us create the 1968 Manet.

Barbara Delp, George Blackwell, Brian Shea, Susan Cohen, and Howie Levenson.

Peggy Donaghey, Barbara Delp, Howie Levenson, and Sue Cohen relax after a day of work in gym.
